The Terrible Railroad Accident in Wales.

The London Globe, of August 21, contains the following:— Perhaps the most fearful and extraordinary accident which ever occurred on the railway is that reported this morning, and which happened at the junction of the Great Western and the London and Southampton lines near Llandudus, yesterday, about a mile and a half from Aberzelle. A telegraph despatch says:— The Irish limited mail, leaving London at a quarter past 7 o'clock, passed Aberzelle station in safety about 1 o'clock. A goods train had passed half an hour before. Beyond Llandudus a portion of the goods train to Holyhead seems to have become detached and ran back down the incline, meeting the mail train going at the rate of fifty miles an hour. The collision brought out the party went into action with full ranks, and the victory surpasses our highest hopes.

The election scatters all the nonsense about Democratic gains. The all the delusions of the Republican party and disaffection, demonstrates the popularity of General Grant, and shows the power of Republican principles. The Democrats are welcome to all the comfort they can extract from the result, and are at liberty to express their views in any way that may suit their mathematical conceits. We don't believe that the Republican victory in Vermont will either make the Republicans apathetic or unduly certain of the result in any State.

The Herald straddles the fence in the following fashion:— Various causes might be assigned for the result at the polls, but we prefer to spread upon them. There can be no doubt, however, but that the course of certain free-trading Southern orators in proclaiming their unwavering devotion to the B-B-fal, in their vulgar and vicious denunciations of General Grant, in Vermont, by means of a Liberty Bells, and in other ways, alike unwise, impolitic and revolutionary, in all of which they were aided by their allies, the Copperheads of the North, can this Democratic college in Vermont be mainly attributed to the press of the day were brought out in the canvass. The people were not made to understand that the time was the time for them to attempt to seek relief from the terrible burden of taxation. Instead, the terrible burden of taxation was increased, and the Vermonters went to the ballot box as if they expected to be called upon to fight their old battles over again. This sentiment was, no doubt, accelerated by the nicely concocted charges of the Union League, and the men in the South, by the reports of an actual collision in at least one of the Southern States, and by other means always at the command of the radical press.

The burning of the carriages and charred bodies. The Abrege (Aug. 31) correspondence of the London Times says:—

The Duke of Abercorn and family, Lord Castlereagh and family, and Mr. and Lady St. John-Liberton were passengers by the train, but all escaped unharmed.

Rejoicings Over the Victory. ALBANY, Sept. 2.—The Republican General Committee fired a salute of one hundred guns at midnight last night in honor of the glorious result in Vermont.

WILMINGTON AWAKE. A Republican Gain of 130 Since Last Year.

Wilmington, Sept. 2.—Joshua S. Valentine, the Republican candidate for Mayor of this city, was re-elected yesterday by 314 majority, being a gain upon his majority a year ago of 44, when he ran 90 ahead of the Republican ticket. The average R-Republican gain on the rest of the ticket is about 130.

Beware of Blair! Hon. Montgomery Blair has announced his intention to resign from the Cabinet.

THE WEST.

Outrages by Indians on the Plains—Troops Sent Out by Gens. Sherman and Sheridan.

Affairs in Tennessee—No Repudiation of the State Debt—Senator Fowler's Politics.

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

FROM BALTIMORE.

How the Vermont Victory was Received—Chop-fallen Democrats.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 2.—The result of the Vermont election yesterday has struck terror into the hearts of the Democracy here, who in their exuberance thought the entire Union with them. Like an avalanche they are woefully taken aback. Several bets were made that the Republican majority of last year would be reduced. I never saw such chop-falling. Neither their papers nor their orators can explain the dilemma. The Republicans are jubilant and encouraged to enter the contest with energy, hopeful even of Maryland when Grant comes before them. They supposed that if the Green Mountain boys held their own this time, it was all that could be desired. Maine is now looked to with intense interest.

FROM CINCINNATI.

The Great Match for the Base Ball Championship of the West.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—A match game between the Buckeye and Cincinnati Base Ball Clubs will be played this P. M. for the championship of the West. The Cincinnati appear to be the favorites, and a majority of bets are given allowing from four to five runs in favor of the Cincinnati. The game will doubtless be one of the most closely contested ever played in this city, and probably in the West. Both clubs have been practising constantly since Saturday, and intend to play their best.

FROM TENNESSEE.

No Repudiation—Senator Fowler to Stump the State for Grant.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 2.—A bill passed the Senate yesterday which provides for the prompt and honorable payment of the interest on the State debt. A bill embracing substantially the same features also passed the second reading in the House. There will be nothing like repudiation in Tennessee.

FROM THE PLAINS.

Depredations of the Indians—Troops Detailed to Drive them Away.

OMAHA, Sept. 2.—A Denver despatch says that fifty Indians made their appearance eight miles above Colorado city, yesterday morning and drove off a hundred horses. They moved towards Bayou Basin with the plunder. A small force of volunteers was immediately sent to intercept them. Intelligence was received last night that a large force of Indians had struck Cache la Poudre valley; that one man had been killed, and the stock driven off. General Sheridan has sent cavalry under Colonel Forsyth, to the head of Beaver creek and Republican Fork.

REBEL TREATMENT.

Testimony of a Federal Soldier.

The following appears in the Boston Transcript. To the Editor of the Transcript:—I have been watching in the past your articles of the treatment of Federal prisoners, and have been tempted to address you on the subject; but it seemed to me that the guilt and crime of Rebel officials in this relation were so well known and established as facts that the article was superfluous; but I cannot refrain from contributing an extract issued to the prisoners in Columbia, S. C., when I was one of the number, and copied verbatim by myself:—

HEADQUARTERS SOUTH CAROLINA GEORGIA, COLORADO, COMMANDING FEDERAL PRISONERS AT COLUMBIA.—The Lieutenant General directs that you report to these headquarters the names of every officer and man who escapes from your custody, and also of every man who attempts to escape, or who is confined in a pen, in the same manner as the privates now are.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant, "Acting Assistant Adjutant-General."

Comment on this document is unnecessary. I would only state that at this time we were existing in an open field, with the heavens for a covering, the earth for our couch, our diet coarse meal and sorghum, the sick and dying sharing the same, guarded by brutes with two and four legs.

At the time of my exchange Mr. Seymour's friend, Robert Ould (to whom I was indebted), informed me I ought to have been home three months sooner, but he could not ascertain where I was. Of course this must have troubled him, and particularly as I came very near dying. Four commercial papers were devoted to this subject only be started twice the price of the others. The New York Herald and by the fourth of November small proportion of the facts might be brought before the people, and they would know where the responsibility belongs if they question it now.
